Girls Inc. DC Announces Newest Women of Impact Cohort

Distinguished Leaders Join Growing Network of Changemakers Dedicated to Empowering the Next Generation of Strong, Smart, and Bold Girls

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Girls Inc. of the Washington, DC Metropolitan Area (Girls Inc. DC) is proud to announce the newest cohort of its Women of Impact program, a distinguished group of professional women who are committed to advancing opportunities for girls across the Washington, DC region through mentorship, volunteer service, advocacy, and philanthropy.

The Women of Impact program brings together accomplished leaders from diverse industries who share a common purpose: helping girls realize their full potential. Throughout the year, cohort members will serve as ambassadors for Girls Inc. DC, contributing their expertise, resources, and networks to support programs that inspire girls to be strong, smart, and bold.

"As we welcome this exceptional group of leaders, we celebrate their commitment to creating pathways to success for girls throughout our community," said Dr. Heather Hairston, Executive Director of Girls Inc. DC. "Their investment of time, talent, and resources will help ensure that more girls have access to the mentorship, experiences, and support systems they need to thrive as future leaders."

Members of the Women of Impact cohort engage directly with Girls Inc. DC participants through activities such as mentoring, tutoring, mock interviews, college and career readiness support, and other volunteer opportunities. In addition to their hands-on involvement, cohort members help amplify awareness of Girls Inc. DC's mission and expand the organization's impact through fundraising and community engagement.

The Women of Impact program reflects Girls Inc. DC's belief that girls succeed when they are surrounded by a network of supportive adults who champion their ambitions and invest in their futures. By leveraging their leadership and influence, Women of Impact members help strengthen the organization's efforts to equip girls with the knowledge, skills, and confidence needed to navigate challenges and achieve lifelong success.
